The President’s Corner

As I sit here writing my last President’s message for the NYS AFLT newsletter, I am filled with gratitude for the people and experiences that have graced my life because of NYS AFLT. Much like the students in our classrooms, I have learned and I have grown as a person because of the extraordinary “presents” of NYS AFLT teachers. I have worked with you on the NYS AFLT Board of Directors, I have been in your workshops, I have chatted with you in exhibit halls, at Summer Institute dinners, and passing in the hallways at the Colloquium. Each encounter has been meaningful and has changed my life for the better.

First and foremost, a heartfelt thanks to our First Vice President, Francesco Fratto. Francesco chaired this year's successful Annual Conference in which our Keynote speaker, Dr. Lori Langer de Ramirez, inspired us to play and enjoy our students and our passion for teaching. Thank you to Lori and to all of you who offered time to present, volunteer, and attend this year’s conference. For those who weren’t able to be there, next year’s Annual Conference in Rochester (chaired by Candie Black) is being planned as we speak and is sure to be an enriching experience.

Additional thanks go out to the NYS AFLT staff for assuring that our organization stays in tip top shape: John Carlino for his excellent managerial skills; Barb Patterson for her amazing poetic annual recap as Assistant Director and hard work with the scholarship committees; Ken Hughes for his technological twists that keep NYS AFLT fresh on the cyber-scene, and office staff who keep things moving at headquarters. We couldn’t do it without all of your efforts and dedication.

With that, my NYS A-friends, I bid a fond adieu to my years of service to the profession and turn the reigns over to Bill Anderson. You will be in very good hands with Bill and his unsurpassed organizational skills. Fourteen years ago, when I became a teacher, I made a vow that I would give back to those who had given so much to me. I tossed my hat into the service ring and I encourage others to do the same. We need your energy and ideas as NYSAFLT continues to move forward, constantly evolving to be the best for our members. Have a wonderful rest of your school year. It has been a pleasure serving as your NYSAFLT president. See you in Rochester!

NYSAFLT 96th Annual Conference 2013 co-sponsored by WNYFLEC

*NYSAFLT President Deb Carlson, Conference Chair Francesco Fratto and Keynote Speaker Dr. Lori Langer de Ramirez

The NYSAFLT 96th Annual Conference was held in beautiful Buffalo, N.Y. on Friday, October 11 and Saturday, October 12. With the theme, “LOTE on the Cutting Edge: Meeting the Challenges of Increased Accountability,” the conference offered over 60 regular sessions and three- hour workshops covering an array of topics such as the Common Core Standards and assessments, Annual Professional Performance Review (APPR), FLES programs and strategies, Total Physical Response Storytelling (TPRS), using music, film, and art in the classroom, classroom management strategies, new teacher training, methodology, differentiated learning strategies, and technology. This year’s “Best of Show” was awarded to Sarah Braunscheidel from St. Francis HS in Athol Springs, NY, for her session “Differentiating LOTE Classrooms.” We congratulate Sarah and wish her well as she represents NYSAFLT at the NECTFL Conference in March.

The keynote speaker was Dr. Lori Langer de Ramirez, Director of World Languages and Global Initiatives at the Dalton School in New York City. Her engaging yet fun speech related to the importance of play in the classroom, especially in the current state (stress) in which we all find ourselves with increased mandates. The video of her speech can be viewed here. The attendees were also fortunate to welcome and honor Roger Tilles, NYS Regent, who spoke to the importance of foreign languages. It should be noted that he voted against the other Regents when NYSED eliminated our LOTE assessments.

Participants had plenty of opportunity to circulate throughout the Buffalo Niagara Convention Center to meet and chat with publishers and vendors. Some made purchases while others made connections with colleagues. Joy Cumming was the winner of the 2013 Proficiency Press iPad raffle. We thank Proficiency Press for donating this wonderful prize!

This conference would not have been possible without the support of some very dedicated NYSAFLT members: A/V Chairperson, Michael Mitchell and his assistant, AJ Ferris; Hospitality co-chairs Swaz Piron and Beth Slocum; Registration co-chairs Leslie Kudlack and Mark Critelli; WNYFLEC President Ellen Connell; Social Media and Technology Director, Ken Hughes; Administrative Assistant, Brian Page; Assistant Director, Barbara Patterson; and most importantly, Executive Director, John Carlino.

This year's conference saw attendees from every part of the state, from eastern Long Island to Buffalo. Even more impressive was the number of NYSAFLT past presidents in attendance: Sue Barnes, Brenda Benzin, Sue Hochmuth, Nancy Ketz, Al Martino, Joanne O'Toole, Nancy Wallace and Immediate Past President Mary Holmes. NYSAFLT is fortunate to have the continued support of these past presidents who paved the way for others and ensured the continued success of the organization.

SAVE THE DATE for the 2014 NYSAFLT Colloquium to be held on Saturday, May 3 in Albany. Our theme is "Bringing the Common Core to Life: Building Communication through Literacy." The Colloquium will be held at the Best Western Sovereign Hotel located at 1228 Western Avenue, Albany, NY. Stay tuned for more details!

On Friday, October 18, NYSAFLT President-Elect Bill Anderson attended the Gala of the New York State Association for Bilingual Education (NYSABE) in New York City. This event honored leaders in Bilingual Education whose work has demonstrated their commitment to biliteracy. At this event, Bill and other state association representatives met NYSED's newly appointed Associate Commissioner for Bilingual Education and Foreign Language Studies, Angelica Infante-Green (second from right).

AATF of CNY

Members and friends of the AATF of CNY were treated to a Quebec-themed workshop held on October 26, at the Onondaga Free library. Over 40 attendees profited from the workshop presentation of Emily Hall, French teacher at West Seneca Central Schools. Entitled “Les Contes Québécois,” the lecture featured the use of Québécois short stories focusing on vocabulary, culture, and film. Emily’s stated goal, “to leave students with a basic understanding of what life was like for the early settlers in Quebec, with a focus on the culture of oral tradition and a promise of sugar tarts and poutine at the end” was realized and appreciated by the audience. In addition, Francophile Ken McCluskey, a retired English teacher and frequent traveler to Quebec, added his insights and musings which captured and shared the soul of the province and city via anecdotes, explorers, sicknesses, wars, the church, and politics, to name a few. A traditional Québécois meal featuring tourtière, prepared by the Chefs d'Or, and a tombola (raffle) of authentic items including homemade maple syrup, rounded out the day's activities. This fall workshop was another of the AATF's efforts to serve its members.

During the business portion of the meeting of the event, chaired by President Robin Brown, members approved changes to the chapter's constitution. New wording authorized the creation of Communications Officer(s) and Academic Project Coordinator, to be designated by the president; the enlargement of the Executive Council; the clarification of duties of all officers; and amendment ratification was more clearly defined. Vice President Jennifer Reed was acknowledged as having participated in the Young Leaders Forum at the National AATF Conference in July in Providence, Rhode Island and credited with spearheading the revisions.

As part of National French Week, on November 7, the group sponsored a free showing of the Maurice Richard classic, The Rocket. Open to the public as well as students and teachers, the film was shown at the Onondaga Free Library and included refreshments and discussion en français.

The group's activities can be easily accessed on our website, www.aatfcny.org.

Presenters Ken McCluskey and Emily Hall display the flag of Québec at the AATF workshop of October 26, 20013.

Central

The northern section of the Central NY region held its annual conference at Immaculate Heart Central in Watertown on Saturday, November 9. The Common Core was the major topic of the conference, with presentations by Nancy Ketz, (“Common Core Alignment, LOTE Advocacy, and Making Lemonade”) and Joanne O’Toole, Ph.D (“Communication, Culture, Common Core Standards... and Puppets”). Many of the participants shared ideas and activities during the swap shop, and everyone had the chance to speak French or Spanish during lunch, with conversation facilitated by Barbara Allen and Françoise Piron. In what may be a first for a regional conference, the food was prepared by the school’s French teacher! Participants also came away with several puppets that they had made.

At this first time event, presenters Jenny Delfini and Leslie Kudlack shared the many great opportunities NYSAFLT has to offer for LOTE educators, including scholarships, member benefits and the Summer Institute and Annual Conference. The in-service conference was completed with Mary Holmes presenting “Creativity in the Common Core.” Mary began with an energetic hands-on activity to get the blood flowing and then proceeded to demonstrate ways to reject the theory that non-fiction is boring and how to utilize creativity to make it work in the TL for the classroom!

ALoud, will hold many workshops at SUNY Ulster this school year along with our annual conference at Marist College. ALoud members will share their LOTE expertise as well as receive a wide range of professional development from guest speakers. NYC-Long Island

On Saturday, October 26, 321 LOTE educators attended the New York City Association of Foreign Language Teachers (NYCAFLT) Annual Professional Conference co-sponsored by the New York State Association of Foreign Language Teachers (NYS AFLT) at the United Federation of Teachers Headquarters in Manhattan. Participants attended three workshop sessions of their choice during a full-day of non-stop activities. The event opened with a welcome from Irma Evangelista, NYCAFLT's President, greetings from Nunzia Manginelli, the Conference Chairperson, and a welcome from NYSAFLT's President Elect, William Anderson. Robin Thompson and Tara Tassani (elect), NYC-LI Regional Directors, were in attendance representing their regions and welcoming participants. Vivian Selenikas, the keynote speaker, elicited an enthusiastic response from the audience and shared her personal experiences as a second language learner. Her two workshops titled "Professional Practice 101 Active Student Engagement" were enthusiastically received and allowed for active audience participation even with the large numbers of LOTE teachers who were present. Attendees also enjoyed speaking to the representatives of professional organizations such as AATSP and AATF.

The workshop presenters focused on the conference theme: "The Road to Communication and Culture: Student-Centered LOTE Learning." A variety of workshops given in the target language and in English were held and many interactive workshops had "take-aways" that teachers could bring back for immediate use in their classroom.

The NYCAFLT Committee makes a special effort to provide early support to both student teachers and new teachers of LOTE. Thus, the workshop "Surviving My First Years in the Languages Other Than English Classroom: Practical Advice from the Trenches" proved to be of great interest. Robin Thompson, our NYC-LI Director, organized and moderated this workshop in which three classroom teachers with one to four years of experience, Stacy Blair, Lise Bienvenue and Jessica Levy, provided the advice.

This year's conference also emphasized the cultural opportunities available to LOTE teachers in New York City. Rosa Bonilla, the Corresponding Secretary of NYCAFLT, presented a workshop in which several cultural organizations were represented: Spanish Theatre Repertory Company, El Museo del Barrio, La Casa Azul, Ballet Hispanico, The Museum of Natural History and Seary Spoken Word Artist. One of the many highlights was the dancing of Zumba while performing Spanish karaoke from a Smart Board as well as watching a video. The audience was delighted to leave with so many refreshing new ideas for the Spanish classroom. How does one judge if a conference has been successful or not? The 242 evaluation forms returned by participants in the 22 workshops gave high marks to their quality and relevance of the topics addressed. They expressed admiration for the knowledge and dedication of the presenters.

NYCAFLT's next event will be our Spring Professional Development Conference which will take place in April 2014 at the UFT Headquarters in Manhattan. A description of the conference and each workshop will be posted on both the UFT and NYSAFLT websites.

Western New York

WNYFLEC was proud to co-sponsor the NYS AFLT Annual Conference in Buffalo. It was great to see representation from throughout the state!

The annual WNYFLEC poster contest is in full swing! The theme is “Foreign Language is...” and the entry deadline is January 3. Please check www.wnyflec.org for more information and poster contest guidelines.

On Tuesday, February 11 WNYFLEC will be sponsoring a mid-winter Swap Shop focusing on Foreign Language Week activities. Bring your ideas to share to help make Foreign Language Week a success throughout Western New York. More information is available at www.wnyflec.org.

Public Advocacy

The status of LOTE legislation on the national level is not very encouraging at this time. Both the Excellence and Innovation in Language Learning Act and the Foreign Language Education Partnership Act were referred to committee, but no action will be taken in the foreseeable future. Their status is listed as “died.”

In New York State, Congressional Bill 1973, mirrored in the Senate with Bill 5192, which intends to provide incentives to elementary foreign language programs as well as incentives for college students pursuing teaching careers in LOTE, was referred to the Education Committee this past January, but the hope of further activity at this time is not likely.

However, the grass roots efforts we have been promoting are increasingly pro-foreign languages across the nation. The first ever U.S. lobby for the promotion of foreign languages, The American Language Enterprise Advocacy (ALEA), has been created by business professionals to raise awareness about the importance of foreign languages in education and in the American work force.

Language teachers across the state are sharing their stories of successfully saving or increasing programs that had been in danger of elimination. They are recruiting their students, parents and administrators to speak out on behalf of our programs.

There are two ways you can help immediately with our efforts to advocate:

One: Share your advocacy successes with NYS AFLT. People are interested, invigorated and motivated to follow your lead. Apply for scholarships and awards for yourself and for your students. Present them in school forums and announce them in your local media. Keep LOTE in the limelight. Please visit our newly updated Public Advocacy web pages for examples, ideas and current documents.

Two: Keep your NYS AFLT membership active and encourage your colleagues to become members. It costs less than $5 per month to be a member. Our voice carries much more weight when we approach our legislators, Regents, Commissioner – and so on – when our organization’s membership is large.

Announcements

Message from the Editor

It was great to welcome so many NYSA-friends from around the state to my hometown of Buffalo for this year's Annual Conference. I truly hope you all enjoyed not only the conference but also your time spent in Buffalo. I found Dr. Lori Langer de Ramirez to be both enlightening and inspiring. She reminded me how fun the foreign language learning environment can and should be. If you haven't done so already, give your students the opportunity to play! I am constantly reminded of the conference by my Facebook newsfeed. I receive updates such as "Creative people are curious, flexible, persistent, and independent with a tremendous spirit of adventure and a love of play" (Henri Matisse) from the Strong National Museum of Play and I think of Lori's keynote address.

Please heed Barb Patterson's call and APPLY for one of the many great scholarships that NYSAFLT has to offer. The professional and personal rewards of being awarded a scholarship or grant is definitely worth the time it takes to complete the application. I know applying for my Zimmerman Award last year was easy and quick, and it really provided a great "extra" for my students while we were in France.

I would be remiss if I did not take a moment to acknowledge our outgoing President, Deb Carlson. I have known Deb for many years and have watched her rise through the ranks from WNYFLEC Treasurer to NYSAFLT Director, then NYSAFLT Treasurer and finally NYSAFLT president. There is something truly inspiring in seeing someone from your own region take on a leadership role in NYSAFLT and I have been so proud watching all that Deb has accomplished. I wish her the best of luck in the future and look forward to working with the new executive committee in January.
